

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL

STANFORD, KY., - MAY 15, 1900

W. P. WALTON.

THE editor of the Ceylon Standard, published at Colombo, sends us a marked copy of his paper in which he attempts to show how important it is for the British to end the war with the Boers at an early date as possible. Says he: "The democratic party, as represented by Mr. Bryan, has decided upon a pro-Boer course and we believe that this will continue in an increasing degree until November draws near. Free silver and great social reforms will recede into the background, and Mr. Bryan and his lieutenants will pledge themselves if elected to bring about the active intervention of the United States on the part of the Boers."

* Should Mr. Bryan be elected, then the situation will be of the gravest importance, should the war not have terminated by that time. Then the intensely English subject, having wrought himself up to the climax, closes his screed with, "We trust Mr. Bryan will be defeated at the polls in November. In the interests of the United States and of the civilization of the whole world, this is greatly to be desired. For any man to be placed in a position such as that of president of the United States of America without a full grasp of the enormous responsibilities entrusted to him, is a calamity of huge dimensions."

That's the way all the English reason. They recognize that the democratic party is the party of the people and sympathizes with the oppressed of every nation, tribe and tongue. It stands ready too to give aid and succor to such people and the prospect of Mr. Bryan's election is giving the British deep concern. It will thus be seen that the democrats, not only have to fight the republicans, the trusts, combines, the flesh and the devil, but the combined powers of the old world. It is equal to the task, however, and the very fact that such a combination is enlisted against the success of the party will make the members fight all the more earnestly. Bryan can be elected and he will be, if the cool heads of conservative men will direct the determined masses, who long for a chance to make this a government of the people, by the people, for the people.

THE republicans of Marion county seem lost to all sense of honor, truth or shame. Their resolutions endorsing Taylor and the miserable crowd of assassins are a little more infamous than any we have read, and when they say that there "has not been adduced one scintilla of evidence connecting any of the republican State officials, or other republicans, with the murder of Goebel," they utter so patent a falsehood that it is hardly necessary to comment on it. The man or set of men, who can recall all the circumstances connected with the assassination before and after and can understand the meaning of the direct testimony given at the trials of the suspects for bail, and then say no "scintilla of evidence has been adduced" to connect the republican State officials, or other republicans with the crime, are either so blindly partisan that they would not believe though one arose from the dead, or lie knowingly, wickedly and maliciously.

THE assassination organs exclaim with one accord, "Taylor is not guilty of the murder of Mr. Goebel." Nobody ever accused him of firing the shot or of actually causing the death of his political rival, but all the circumstances, together with sworn evidence, show that he had at least a guilty knowledge of the crime, even if for the sake of his apologists we refrain from saying that they all show that he conspired with those who did actually commit the murder. The grand jury has probably charged this and the people are willing that the courts shall pass on his guilt or innocence. The verdict of subsidized newspapers don't go.

THE raid of the republican officials on the postoffice funds in Cuba show how the rapacious army of office holders, appointed to pay political debts, do when they get a chance. There is rich pickings for the faithful in our new "dependencies" and the loot of public funds and the robbery of the people will equal if not exceed that of the carpet baggers in the South during the period of reconstruction, if the republicans are not turned out of power. The present administration is manufacturing reasons every day for a change in governmental affairs and democratic prospects grow and brighten.

A DISPATCH from Washington says that the subcommittee on elections and privileges No. 1 has decided to report the Gilbert-Davison contest in favor of the sitting member, Mr. Gilbert, by a practically unanimous vote. Davison certainly must have had no case at all or the republicans would have followed their precedent of unseating the democrat if the slightest grounds can be found for it. Now let the gray gelding try conclusions with Mr. Gilbert again and get himself beaten by 2,500.

EDITOR PAT McDONALD, of the Frankfort Argus, tells how the assistant adjutant general under Taylor, J. K. Dixon, in full uniform, called at his residence, and after ringing the door bell, he appeared to find the ex-officer with his hand on his pistol. Dixon asked if he was responsible for an article mildly rebuking certain republican women for making heroes out of the assassin suspects, and on being told that he was, began to curse and abuse him. Instead of shooting the heart out of him as most men would, Mr. McDonald, being a law-abiding man, let Dixon curse till he got through and then had him arrested. The doughty general may thank his stars he struck a man, who believes in the supremacy of the law or he would not have lived to see Taylor go out in disgrace. It takes a great deal of self-possession to submit to curses at one's own castle and Mr. McDonald in that regard is one in a thousand. Few people could have stood the strain and we hardly believe that Mr. McDonald should have done so.

THE supreme court has given Taylor by its silence one more week to play the sympathy racket, but he will drop with a dull thud, (we hope the expression will not grate on his nerves) after next Monday. That court is bound to decide that it has no jurisdiction in the matter.

THE republican State convention will be held next Thursday to send delegates to the National convention. A later convention will have to be held for the nomination of a candidate for governor, if Taylor is thrown down by the supreme court.

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL furnished the news of the failure yesterday of the supreme court to decide the governorship case to nearly all the points reached by local telephone. The interest is wide spread.

THE LATEST.

LOUISVILLE, May 15, 8:30 A. M.—The Whitley county republicans have sharp controversy before adopting resolutions expressing confidence in the innocence of Finley.

Thomas Kane, a Beckham militia private, was accidentally shot and killed by James Robertson, a comrade, who is in jail. Kane was from Lexington.

C. D.—The following was received at this office yesterday and posted for the benefit of the court day crowd:

NO DECISION.
LOUISVILLE, May 14, 1 P. M.—There was no decision by the supreme court in the Kentucky governorship case today. It will be given next Monday. There was no reason assigned for the delay.

C. D.—SOMERSET, May 14.—The Wayne county republicans in convention at Monticello today expressed confidence in Taylor, Bradley, Yost and Sweeney, endorsed McKinley and Taylor and instructed for Taylor, Bradley, Denny and White, colored, for delegates from the State at large and John W. Tuttle and Judge Vincent Boreing from the district. Hon. W. R. Ramsey, of London, was named as elector.

F. J. C.—

ABOUT CONSPIRATORS AND ASSASSINS.
W. S. Taylor, who has joined Charley Finley and others of the alleged conspirators at Indianapolis, told a reporter yesterday that if the supreme court's decision is against him, he will hardly come back to Kentucky for the present.

Whether Howard be innocent or guilty, he has set an example of manhood which greater men might imitate with profit to themselves. It fits a fugitive from justice to talk at long and safe range about his willingness to face the music. Nor does it much become a prisoner behind the bars to make stump speeches. All in good time will the case of the State versus the murderers of William Goebel be tried, and it will be fairly tried according to the evidence and the law. Let the organs of assassination put that in their pipes and smoke it.—Courier Journal.

POLITICIANS AND POLITICS.

Kinsey J. Hampton, of Kentucky, has been appointed assistant quartermaster, with the rank of captain in the volunteer army.

If the majority of nominations could decide the presidency, the next president would be the man who could beat Wharton Barker.

It is claimed by those in a position to know, that 10 or 12 of the leading trusts have promised a campaign fund this year amounting to $6,200,000.

George Fred Williams is of German parentage. His father's name was George Weizigman, but had it changed by act of the Legislature to Williams.

The Louisiana Legislature, which met yesterday, will elect two Senators. The proposition to establish an armor plant was defeated in the Senate by a vote of 22 to 24.

By the narrow margin of two votes, the House unseated Mr. Crawford, democrat, of North Carolina, and gave the seat to Pearson, republican. This is the third democrat unseated by the present House.

The Somerset Paragon says that Mrs. W. S. Taylor and daughters will likely spend the summer at Rock Castle Springs. That paper is hardly reckless enough to guess where the husband and father will spend his—perhaps in jail.

A vote for the republican party means an endorsement of Great Britain's destruction of the two little South African republics; the single gold standard; trusts and imperialism. Do you want them?—White Hall (Ill.) Register.

The enemies of democracy in this State are busily engaged in telling the democrats what they must do to be saved. The simplest and surest way to salvation is to do the reverse of what these minions of the devil prescribe.—Louisville Times.

The present judges of the supreme court are Melville C. Fuller, John M. Harlan, Horace Gray, David J. Brewer, Henry B. Brown, George Shiras, Edward D. White, Rufus W. Peckham, Joseph McKenna. About two thirds of them were appointed by republican presidents.

The Palaski republicans of Palaski put James Denton at the head of the list of delegates to Louisville and Judge Thos. Z. Morrow to London. The convention endorsed McKinley, Taylor and Bradley, denounced the Goebel law and extended sympathy to those indicted for killing Gov. Goebel.

It is said that the charges against Collector Sapp, that he had an employee of the L. & N. engaged last year in levying upon the internal revenue force in his distal, a five per cent. monthly assessment under the guise of voluntary contributions to the campaign fund of the railway political trusts, will be investigated.

Postmaster Hanbury, of Eddyville, who 11 months ago fell off a high railroad trestle and broke both arms, both legs, fractured his ribs, cracked his skull and otherwise skinned, bruised and cut his person, is now able to be out. You can't kill a republican, and nobody ever heard of one dying.—Frankfort Democrat.

Pugh and Boreing, of Kentucky, who have been shedding crocodile tears around Washington for the last six months about men being elected to office in Kentucky and defrauded out of it, are on record here as voting to deprive Mr. Crawford, of North Carolina, of his seat and give it to Pearson. Of course Pugh and Boreing know that Crawford was elected.—Washington Cor. Courier Journal.

The recent explanation of Col. Waterson to high priest Walton of why the Courier Journal sometimes puts it this way: "We are a democrat and not a republican," is so suggestive that Mr. Ben V. Smith, of the central committee, this city, recommends the expression as an all sufficient platform upon which to stand our candidate for president. Let this be the watchword of the campaign: "I am a democrat and not a republican."—Somerset Journal.

R. M. Chenault, of Fort Scott, Kan., attended the National Populist convention at Cincinnati as a delegate from the State at large, and told the Cincinnati Enquirer "it is absolutely folly for the republicans to claim Kansas in the approaching presidential election. It will go democratic by from 15,000 to 25,000, certainly not less than the first figure. There are 6,000 or 7,000 German votes that the democrats will get this time on account of the expansion policy of the administration." Mr. Chenault is a Madison county, Ky., product.

A senseless and inexcusable warfare is kept up on Hon. James B. McCreary by some pretended guardians of the democratic sheep pasture. There is no more faithful democrat in Kentucky than Mr. McCreary. There was no more loyal and earnest worker for the democratic ticket in 1896 than Mr. McCreary. Mr. Bryan knows it, and everybody knows it who has cared to inform himself. Ask Jo Blackburn about McCreary. He of all others is capable of judging him, and McCreary today has no firmer friend than Blackburn. The professional peacemakers plead for peace in one breath and in the next decry such men as McCreary. Out on them!—Owensboro Messenger.

Hon. John Sam Owsley sold them one good milk cow for $50.

Dick Dunn Jr., of Danville, has signed a year's contract to ride and train J. H. Jones' stable of saddlers at Oak Hill Farm, Lincerne, Mo.

I will stand my Polled Durham bull, Jack Maynard, at $3 cash, with privilege to breed back if cow proves not with calf. M. S. Baughman.

Woods & Lynn bought of B. D. Holtzclaw 29 sheep at $3 and sold Von Greening two cows for $70.

John Engleman sold Mr. Von Greening a cow for $49.

W. P. Grimes, who has given the disease much study, says that when cattle die of blackleg they should be either buried or burned at once and the place where they died should be well sprinkled with unslacked lime.

The sale of Hereford cattle held at Kansas City, made an average of $221.20 for 45 bulls and $323.60 for 70 females. At a Shorthorn sale at Winchester, Ind., 25 females averaged $268.60 and 14 bulls averaged $145. The highest priced animal was the five-year-old show cow, Sallie Girl. She brought $1,700.

COURT DAY.—There were 258 cattle at Florence & Dawes' pens yesterday and the majority of them changed hands, a bunch of extra good steers bringing 5 1/2c. Heifers were in demand at 4 to 4 1/2c. Butcher stuff brought 3 to 3 1/2c. There was a demand for good horses and several sold privately at $75 to $135. A few mules went at $65 to $85.

George Robinson sold 26 200 pound hogs at 5c. John S. Robinson has purchased 30 choice mare mule colts, paying as high as $75 for some of them. James Tewmeyer has 43 ewes and they dropped 87 lambs and saved all of them but 10. Forsythe & Curry bought the growing crops of wheat of several parties, aggregating 15,000 bushels, at 60c. —Harrodsburg Democrat.

Hon. J. S. Owsley, Sr., received Saturday a splendid specimen of the registered Aberdeen-Angus breed of cattle, Major of Clifton. He weighs 1,100 pounds, is 15 months old and a beauty. He was bred on the famous Meadow Brook Farm at Cedarville, O., by the well-known firm of D. Bradfute & Son and cost Mr. Owsley $225.50, including freight. He makes a fine addition to Mr. Owsley's already fine herd of that stock, which he will raise almost exclusively.

Mrs. Margaret Jefferson Davis Hayes, the only surviving child of Jefferson Davis, will be at the Louisville reunion. Gen. Gordon has appointed her daughter, the grand-daughter of Jefferson Davis, Miss Varina Howell Davis Hayes, as sponsor for the entire South. Dewey kissed dozens of girls in Memphis, but as Mrs. Dewey was there, or thereabout, it is hardly worth while saying that they were little girls.
